ABOUT ME

Having left university with 5 years of photography education, I found myself working as a cruise ship photographer. Not only did I take photos of passengers, but I worked heavily behind the scenes editing, retouching and printing the images.

Once I moved to Spain, I originally taught English, then stumbled upon Ticketbis. It is here I used a lot of the talents that I learned both on the ship and in university. As Content Editor (alongside writing content) I frequently created small images and logos for the site. I also began writing short HTML snippets to be used on the frontend.

Once Ticketbis was bought by StubHub, I was promoted to Content Specialist for UK and the following year promoted to UK & Intl. Partnership Content Coordinator. This, in part, was due to my knowledge regarding imagery, HTML and CSS knowledge and ability to pickup new platforms.

My role as Coordinator diverged into dealing with imagery requests, liaising between multiple departments, working with the various product teams to sort out landing pages and site issues, and finally helping to define HTML requests in greater detail.
